OVERALL EFFECTIVENESS OF THE SCHOOL	2
How effective the school is in providing Catholic Education Our Lady's Catholic Primary School is a good school with many outstanding features. The Mission Statement is displayed prominently throughout the school and is clearly understood by the whole school community. The school provides an environment in which pupils feel safe and secure, and which nurtures the spiritual life and uniqueness of each pupil. The Head Teacher's drive, commitment and high expectations are commendable, and she inspires and motivates all who work with her. The recently-appointed Religious Education subject leader has effectively led the implementation of the new scheme "The Way, the Truth and the Life". She is successful in developing all aspects of Religious Education enabling pupils to make good, and in some cases very good progress. The provision and quality of Collective Worship, the response and participation of pupils, and the contribution of pupils to the life of this school, are all outstanding. Links between school and the Parish are well established. The building of the new Parish Church, uniting two Parishes, has strengthened the spiritual life, development and unity within the local community. The Head Teacher and the Religious Education subject leader have a clear and realistic view of what now needs to be done for the school to fulfill its potential to become outstanding. What the school could do to improve further It is the view of the inspectors that Our Lady's Catholic Primary school has an excellent capacity for improvement. It is recommended that the school should: • Ensure work is well-differentiated, posing appropriate challenges for all pupils • Develop and implement strategies which enable pupils to identify next steps in their learning, and what they need to do to achieve them • Ensure the monitoring role of the supportive Governing Body includes monitoring of the quality of teaching and learning outcomes. Analysis of this should be used to inform future development.

PUPILS	2
How good outcomes are for pupils, taking account of variations between different groups Achievements and standards in Religious Education are good overall. Given pupils' capability and starting point, most pupils achieve well, and some very well. On entry most pupils have little knowledge of the Church, Prayer or Scripture. The school nurtures the development of skills, knowledge and understanding in order that pupils can access Religious Education at an appropriate level. Most pupils, including those with additional learning needs, perform well. This is particularly true of pupils' ability to respond orally to work undertaken in the classroom. However, Inspectors found that this was not always reflected in the standard of recorded work. Increased provision of differentiated work and attention to presentation is recommended in order to address this aspect. Spiritual and moral development is outstanding and relationships at all levels are excellent. Pupils are well-motivated and eager to learn. Their behaviour throughout the inspection was excellent. The pupils' contribution to, and benefit from, the Catholic life of the school is outstanding. They participate eagerly in a wide range of activities and events such as Stations of the Cross in Lent, and the family crib scheme in Advent. Together with the other Parish School, St Augustine's, pupils from both Key Stages took part in a 'Walk the Labyrinth Week' in the new Church. Artwork of a high calibre, by Our Lady's pupils, is used in school and in the Parish Church to enhance community prayer and worship. Pupils are confident reading at Mass or singing solos.

In response to talks by visitors from CAFOD, Fairtrade, local charities and overseas missionaries, pupils have set up their own fundraising activities. These include coffee mornings for Water-aid and a very active Mini-Vinnies group who have visited a local care home taking homemade cakes, chocolates and providing entertainment.

In discussion with Inspectors, pupils were articulate and knowledgeable; they were able to talk confidently about their work in Religious Education lessons, their faith and the Scriptures, and how these relate to their own lives.

Pupils demonstrated a good understanding of the school's Mission Statement and they were able to discuss it with genuine enthusiasm and insight. One pupil stated that "it is hard to get bullying in our school so we all feel safe..." Others felt that sanctions were "fair" and "just" and that there was "always an adult to talk to". These relationships are powerful evidence of how the school is living out its Mission.

How effective the provision is for Catholic Education
The quality of teaching at Our Lady's is good with some outstanding elements. This, together with good use of high-quality resources, a range of teaching styles, and effective use of ICT has a positive impact on achievement and standards. The school follows the Diocesan recommended scheme "The Way, the Truth and the Life" and this results in a consistent approach to curriculum provision. Lessons are well-prepared and teachers have a secure knowledge of the subject. Pupils also benefit from the excellent support of teaching assistants who make a considerable contribution to Religious Education in the school. Good assessment, moderation and tracking procedures are now in place. There was some evidence of differentiated tasks observed during the inspection, but the majority of evidence in pupils' workbooks was differentiation by outcome or support for less able pupils. Teachers now need to provide differentiated activities for those pupils who could be challenged more. Provision for spiritual development is outstanding. Planning for the prayer and liturgical life of Our Lady's is meticulous. The school is successful in providing a wide variety of meaningful and rich opportunities to support the development of pupils in this area. Pupils are encouraged to meditate and also learn traditional prayers. Staff work hard to make learning memorable and invite frequent visitors such as speakers from CAFOD and Fair Trade. This provision is enhanced by the school's close working with the Parish Priest. First Sacraments Preparation is provided by the school and is of the highest standard. It is led by a committed and dedicated teaching assistant. The programme not only engages pupils, but also parents and the whole community. Parents' involvement in their children's education is enhanced by the provision of a weekly class newsletter giving details of current topics in Religious Education as well as information on celebrations and the Liturgical Season. Provision for multi-faith education is excellent. In addition, pupils benefit from an extensive range of enrichment activities including working with other schools, active participation in Parish events, retreats, fundraising, visits and clubs. Community cohesion is outstanding.

LEADERS AND MANAGERS	1
How effective leaders and managers are in developing the Catholic Life of the school
The Head Teacher has a clear vision for the school. She provides outstanding leadership and motivation for a hardworking and dedicated staff team. She is supported by an able Senior Leadership Team and a committed and supportive Governing Body. The school documentation reflects the importance of the Catholic life and ethos of the school, and the Religious Education Action Plan sets out detailed actions to improve and develop all aspects of Religious Education. The contribution made by the Religious Education Subject Leader is outstanding. She encourages and supports her colleagues and her enthusiasm makes a positive impact on standards in the school.

Excellent assessment procedures are in place and high-quality moderation activities are undertaken on a regular basis. An effective tracking system is used to monitor the progress of pupils and the standards of achievement for individual pupils and groups of pupils. Since the last inspection, the Senior Management Team has put in place robust systems for monitoring and evaluating the quality of Religious Education. Planning is scrutinized, and learning timetables are monitored.

The Governing Body provides a high level of support and Governors are justifiably proud of their school. They have a clear understanding of the distinctive nature of a Catholic school and ensure that the Catholic ethos is monitored and continuously developed. However, it is recommended that this activity by the Governors is now further developed to include evaluating the quality of teaching and learning outcomes, ensuring the analysis is used to inform future development. This will be beneficial in assisting the school in moving towards becoming outstanding.

Matters relating to the religious life and Mission of the school are given priority by the Governors, and they are aware of the importance of challenging the school in order to ensure the best possible provision for pupils.

There is efficient management and effective use of resources plus successful links with external agencies. Parents are kept well informed through a wide range of means including weekly class newsletters, pupil reports and opportunities to visit the school for liturgies, workshops and many events.
